JIM AND WENCH SOLD.

UNCLE SAM'S TEAMSTERS HATED TO SEE THE FAITHFUL PAIR GO.

And the Worst of It Was That They Were to Be Separated—For More Than Twenty Years They Had Been Together in the Service of the Government.

"At 15! At 15! Going at 15! Who says the half? Do I hear it? Only $15 for this mule? Why, gentlemen, she's worth more'n that if she never did another lick o' work. Whoa, Wench, you little old darling! Fifteen dollars I am offered! Can't I get the half? Fifteen more! Do I hear the half? No? Fifteen (twice) Third and last call and sold to Mr. Carl for $15." And the auctioneer, who was also the civilian clerk in the post quartermaster's office, tenderly caressed the face, gray with age, of the little brown mule, and, brushing his hand across his own eyes, walked slowly back to his desk in the office.

Wench was led off to the blacksmith shop to be branded on the left of the neck, "I. C. S."—inspected, condemned, sold. Twelve other mules had passed under the hammer ahead of her that morning and then to the branding iron. The last one before her was Jim, whose neck was still smoking with the burning mark of condemnation. He had gone for $15.50.

Two years ago the quartermaster had picked out Wench and Jim to submit to the inspector for condemnation, but one at a time the teamsters had all come to plead for their retention, and he had yielded to their entreaties. Last year again he had marked them for the list, but again gave way to the teamsters. But this time the chief quartermaster stepped in with his authority, and, remarking that there was no place in the quartermaster's department for sentiment, ordered Wench and Jim to be condemned and sold.

For more than a score of years these two little beasts have faithfully served the government, and all this time they have been mates. In the pack train they jogged along together; in the wagon train they pulled over the same spreader; in the camp they ate out of the same feed box; in the stable they stood in the same stall; in the corral they were always found side by side. Tonight, for the first time in this quarter century, they will be apart, for Jim was bought by Mr. Hammond, and Wench was knocked down to Mr. Carl, and Uncle Sam's oxenherd is richer by $30.50.

No place for sentiment in the quartermaster's department! Of course not, yet "breathes there the man with soul so dead" that he does not believe these two little dumb creatures will miss each other this night and many a night?

As the sale went on the teamsters stood on one side like mourners at a comrade's burial; on the other, the farmers and ranchmen and contractors and lumbermen from 20 miles around, all there to bid in as cheap as possible the mules the quartermaster's department was done with. Against the name of each mule on the list stood the legend, "Old and worn out in service."

There were old Rooney and Bevis and Boss and Schaeffer and the rest of the teamsters who have driven and packed these miles over thousands of miles of mountain and prairie. Are they to be laughed at for weeping and faces now? Yet they bore the ordeal like men good and true until Jim was led out. Then you could see their sleeves, one after another, drawn across their eyes.

"This here's awful, boys," old Rooney remarked. "I can't stand it. I'd rather see the government bust than see them two mules sold."

"You're right, Rooney," old Bevis spoke. "A government mean enough to sell them two mules ain't fit to stand." But their comments were stopped by the auctioneer's third and last call on poor little Jim.

After the sale was over a farmer, wearing a canvas overcoat that he had bought at a previous sale of condemned stuff and that bore in the middle of the back the big black letters, "I. C.," stepped up to the teamsters and asked why they hated so much to see the last two mules sold.

"Why?" asked old Schaeffer, half angry, tugging the moisture off his wrinkled cheek. "Because they're the best friends we ever had. Them two mules was back with the pack train the day Custer and his men was wiped out. They toted packs during all the 1876 and 1877 campaigns 'gin the Indians. They're the best pair of leaders that was ever in this corner. They can drive the selves, and in their young days, whenever there was a fight or skerry place to go through or a hard pull to make, they was the first ones called for. They hepped haul the Seventh from here to Riley, and the Eighth from there up here. There's never been a campaign or a march from this post that them mules ain't gone on it. And they've never been separated till today, an' darned if I believe they'll work a lick by the selves. Do you, Bevis?"

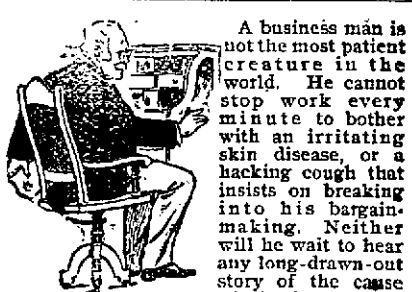

"I sho' hope they won't," this old fellow answered bitterly. And they walked away to the teamsters' mess.

MANLY VIGOR

ONCE MORE in harmony with the world, 2000 completely cured men are singing happy praises for the greatest, grandest and most successful cure for sexual weakness and lost vigor known to medical science. An account of this wonderful discovery, in book form, with references and proofs, will be sent to suffering men (sealed free). Full manly vigor permanently restored. Failure impossible. ERIE MEDICAL CO., BUFFALO, N. Y.

MEN AND WOMEN to make big money with the Practical Plating Dynamo. It is the electrical machine used in the great plating factories; $35 to $85 a week made easy. Plates everything; no experience; big profits. Address W. P. Harrison & Co., Clerk No. 11, Co. St. M. Columbus, Ohio.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot stop work every minute and to bother with an irritating skin disease, or a hacking cough that insists on breaking into his bargain making. Neither will he wait to hear any long drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula, or consumption. "That," he will tell you "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that permeates the whole body as water goes through a sponge. It is a microbe hunter and a microbe killer. It is a well-known fact that many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of living in this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 95 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering, bronchial, throat and lung diseases. Don't allow a druggist to persuade you into taking something that he says is "just as good." Maybe it's better for him—better for his profits. Take the "Golden Medical Discovery"—the greatest discovery of the age. In addition, in order to know yourself better, send to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only, and get in return, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book of 1008 pages, illustrated, and is full of common sense talk that any one who can read will understand.

And here is the testimony of Mrs. E. E. Peters, of Carey, Ohio, in regard to the "Golden Medical Discovery." "I had a troublesome skin disease. I suffered much from surface sores. Nothing helped me until I tried the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' A year or two later I had lung trouble. Again the 'Discovery' cured me."

THE COMSTOCK.

A Good Many Years of Legitimate Prosperity for the Lode.

EDITOR JOURNAL: Things on the Comstock do not look as encouraging as they might. Still the general situation is not as discouraging as it might be, and there is, in my opinion, a probability of a good many years of legitimate prosperity ahead for the camp. This cannot happen under existing circumstances. That is to say, that mining, like any other business, must be conducted on business principles, which is not the rule nor the exception on the Comstock. There is a difference of opinion as to the existence of any large bodies of low grade ore, but enough is believed by posted people to exist to keep the camp moving for a long time if means to work it can be found, and those means are at hand, if what I learn is true. I refer to the Peck process of concentration, which has proven an unqualified success. As is well known, the "slimes" at the Eureka, Morgan and Mexican mills were acquired some time ago. Those at the Eureka are now worked up, and the concentrating apparatus has demonstrated its superiority over every other. The plant at the Mexican is now at work on the Morgan slimes just as successfully, and the owners of the patents are reaching out for other propositions. They have an extensive plant in South Africa, working on tailings in Johannesburg, and are on the high road to prosperity. The significance of all this is that low grade ore, so situated that it can be crushed cheaply, can be concentrated from the stamps, and all the subsequent processes now in vogue done away with. This involves the saving of mill castings, bluestone, salt, mercury and the wages of numerous men to handle the work.

In my opinion the ores from the Comstock, as well as the waste, will go out through the Sutro tunnel, at the mouth of which crushing and concentrating works will be erected. There is unlimited power for electric plants on the Carson river, only awaiting energy and capital. The Eureka mill power is in shape for instant use. The old Franklin mill power and that of the Douglass mill at Dayton are also available, all within easy conveying distance for electricity.

Near Dayton, in the Como range, very valuable properties are being developed. That of Hully & Logan promises big things. They have 25 or 30 feet of ore that goes from $10 to $20, while there appears to be almost unlimited quantities of it. The interests of Colonel Boyle and others are nearly as flattering, and a tunnel is now being run to drain the ground, where very rich ore is known to exist. These como croppings extend for 17 miles, and the presence of ore bodies already known makes it extremely probable that that section will largely take the place of the Comstock as a factor in the general prosperity of the section. Indeed, those best qualified to judge freely prophesy that "Como" will one day, and that soon, create a camp only second to that old stand-by, the Comstock.

Let us hope that saner methods will prevail, and legitimate mining will be the rule.

Virginia City, April 16, 1896

Another Discovery.

The Dayton Times says J. M. McSwain has made a rich gold strike near Cambridge, Esmeralda county. His shaft is twenty feet deep, showing a vein six to eight inches that will yield $200 to the ton. The ore is being hauled to Gignoux's mill, and the strike has caused much excitement. McSwain discovered his prospect while riding through the canyon on his horse. He stumbled over a bowl-shaped which upon being pounded up produced $50 in gold. Subsequently he found the ledge and went to work on it with the result above stated.

The Oath of Office Administered to Governor Sadler.

The oath of office was administered to Governor Sadler at Carson yesterday morning by Chief Justice Bigelow. No appointments have been made as yet by Mr. Sadler, and he declines to talk of the matter. There are many rumors and considerable speculation regarding who may be Lieutenant-Governor, but it is more than probable that the selection has not been given to the public, nor will it be until Governor Sadler deems it wise to do so.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U.S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

No Place Like Nevada.

A. R. Jeffery and wife returned from Missouri yesterday morning after an extensive trip by the southern route and through California, where many visits were made. Mr. and Mrs. Jeffery left here less than a year ago to make their home in Missouri, but as usual, after leaving Nevada, found that there is no place that suits them so well and have come back to Wadsworth to again reside.—Wadsworth Dispatch.

Verily, the old adage, "There is no place like home," is again verified. Those who have once resided in Nevada, whose people are the most open-hearted, sociable and jovial on earth, are sure to wander back again. After once gaining a home in Nevada they may go where they will, but as sure as the sun rises and sets they will sooner or later return. Nevadans are noted for their hospitality, and while it is true that we have not the advantages of many other States, we are, as a whole, contented and happy, and what more can be desired? The unsurpassed climate of Nevada is in itself an advantage possessed by few, if any other States, in the Union. During the summer seasons, while the people of the East are sweltering in the heat, and seeking the tops of the houses at night in the attempt to catch a breath of fresh air or a cooling breeze, the residents of our mountainous State can repose comfortably under a couple of quilts and arise in the morning feeling refreshed and ready to commence their day's labor with a light heart. The laws of nature require that a good night's rest is essential to the longevity of man. Nevada—where pure air and healthy climate reign supreme—is the place where this requirement can be found.—Elko Independent.

Must Be Stopped.

Postmaster Berry has been greatly annoyed of late with boys and young men who congregate in the Post Office during the distribution of mails and amuse themselves with taking the ink that is placed on the outside desks for the convenience of the public, pouring it on the floor, splashing it on the windows and walls and marking up and destroying official notices that are posted in the office. This has become an intolerable nuisance, and while the Postmaster is a very patient man he has grown tired of it and will prosecute some of these boys, who are known, if it occurs again. Tearing down or disfiguring official notices from the Post Office Department is a serious offense and if continued the perpetrators may not find it so amusing.

Completely Recovered.

Mrs. Finley Cook, daughter of G. Morlingler, who last January went to San Francisco for surgical treatment, has fully recovered and is shortly expected to return to Reno to reside with her parents. Her case was a very critical one, and the operation which she underwent was attended with so much danger that the surgeons for a time despaired of her life. Every cent of the expense of her treatment, which was very heavy, was borne by her father, but very cheerfully indeed, as he says that the life of his child was more precious to him than all his earthly possessions. 4-17tf

A Ladies' Auxiliary Organized.

Last Tuesday afternoon a number of ladies interested in the work of the Young Men's Christian Association met at the room of the Association and organized a Ladies' Auxiliary with the following officers:

President, Mrs. A. G. Spangler; Vice President, Mrs. A. D. Bird; Treasurer, Mrs. C. P. Brown. The membership list includes the names of the prominent ladies of Reno in social and religious circles and contains over thirty names. The auxiliary will be of much benefit to the Young Men's Christian Association as the ladies all take a great interest in the welfare of young men. As an initiatory effort the Ladies' Auxiliary is arranging to give a public reception at the Y. M. O. A. rooms on next Saturday evening. A pleasing program, light refreshments and a general sociable time are the attractions. Everyone who is interested in the young men's work is invited to take the opportunity of attending the reception and inspecting their quarters.

Three Weeks of Fair.

The Truckee Republican says: The State Fair at Sacramento this year will occupy three weeks, instead of two, as formerly. This was decided upon at a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture Monday afternoon, and was brought about in great measure by the earnest labors of Director W. H. Land, who argued that the absence of district fairs this year would insure a large attendance at the State Fair.

My lady looks into the mirror

And her face it glows with delight, As she sees the vast improvement Since she used Parks' Tea each night.

She is never tired or weary, Her ills and her pains have fled; Since she drank of Parks' Tea each evening.

A cup full on going to bed, Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

Viava.

Viava is more of a food than a medicine. I should be glad to have those who do not understand its use, call and get a Health Book free and read the home testimonials. Viava sales in 1895 exceeded those in 1894 by half a million dollars. Mrs. B. E. HUNTER. Fourth Street.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.
